

BEDROOM

Imagine sleeping in a solid rosewood bed that took 520 hours to craft, on the ultimate mattress that took Savoir specialists a further 120 hours to create. The result? The best night's sleep ever! £85,225; savoirdesigns.co.uk

1

2

3

4

Touch Wood

Now there are more innovative ways to decorate your home with timber or wood-inspired surfaces than ever before. Think wall and floor coverings inspired by natural wood grains and luxury hand-carved solid wood furniture. These designs celebrate the knots and imperfections that show the passage of time and the tactility of wood.

5

6

7

1 Advances in the dyeing process means that silk can now be hand-knotted with such precision that this timber 'Cross-section' rug from Fort Street Studio not only looks like wood, felled from a tree, but has the three-dimensional texture too. £20,120; fortstreetstudio.com

2 A simple wood veneer light pendant can bring a touch of the outdoors inside. £129; bloomingville.com

3 In pale Nordic wood, this clock is a must-have for timber fans. £14; calversandsuvdal.com

4 Ever considered a wooden blanket? Elisa Strozzyk's fabrics, constructed from wood and wool, innovatively manipulate the material to create something unexpected, and deceptively cosy too. £1,300; elisastrozyk.de

5 Brintons has teamed up with pattern provocateurs, Timorous Beasties, to create 'Grain du Bois', a collection of 'woodgrain' carpets as a plush wool alternative to stripwood flooring. £95 per sq/m; brintons.co.uk

6 'All the Fruits' wood effect wallpaper is unique in that it illustrates the wood grain, rather than mimicking it. £125 per roll; fao-shop.com

7 The 'Moved console' by Sandra Demuth for Roche Bobois combines a solid oak base with drawers in white lacquered wood. £950; roche-bobois.com