CARPETS & TEXTILES FOR MODERN INTERIORS

FRANK GEHRY
AND FERREIRA
DE SÁ RUGS

◀ Fallen leaves

The natural parks and gardens in the city of Barcelona were the inspiration behind the Leaves Collection by Barcelona Rugs. The design can be created in ten different colourways in custom sizes and either hand-knotted or hand tufted.

▶ All a blur

The carpet designs of Tai Ping's new collection Blur evoke photographic effects from the past, such as the high-contrast urban lighting of film noir and sepia tones of early 20th-century photography. The designs, like the pictured Flash 1 (right), are very much about light effects and texture, offering the viewer a contemporary and atmospheric abstract aesthetic.

▲ Studio work

Beaded Mustard is one of the latest designs to come out of Hong Kong and New York-based brand Fort Street Studio. The textured wool and silk composition was inspired by a piece of embroidery and is available in two subtle colourways.

◀ Spring in the air

With a delightful ombre effect, the rug design Melda 1 by architectural practice Waldo Works for Christopher Farr is seen here in one of two colourways, the other featuring blue instead of pink. Hand-knotted with Persian wool, they have the perfect
